PICKETS SCORED BY COURT

Judge Enright Will Not Stand for Rowdiness and Assaults—Cart-ridge Shop Employee Assaulted

Judge Enright this morning announced that owing to the numerous assaults that have taken place in the vicinity of the United States Cart-ridge Co.'s plants as a result of the recent strike that hereafter if defendants are found guilty they will be given direct sentences instead of fines or suspensions.

Joseph Lescarbeau was charged with assault and battery on Joseph P. Ferris on August 30. Ferris, who is employed at the plant, was coming out of the place on the night in question and he was accompanied by two of his cousins, who are employed in the Merrimack mills. It is alleged that Lescarbeau, who was acting as picket, called the men vile names and then pushed Ferris. Owing to the fact that the latter had recently been released from the hospital after undergoing an operation, he was in a weakened condition and fell into the street.

Lescarbeau, who some time ago lost one of his lower limbs and uses an artificial limb, testified that he was one of the pickets and did not push Ferris. He went to the hospital to get his limb, telling them not to go to work, when the crowd behind him pushed him forward and when he put out his hands to save himself, they came in contact with Ferris and the latter fell to the street.

Chief Martin Corcoran of the U. S. Cart-ridge Co., said that during the past three weeks there have been more than 30 assaults, but owing to the fact that he has been given orders not to make any arrests unless it was absolutely essential, he had not brought any of the violators of the law into court before.

The court, after considering the evidence in the case, said that people have a right to strike and that peaceful picketing is lawful, but that those who wish to work must be protected and that he will not stand for any rowdiness or further assaults. He said that owing to the physical condition of the defendant, he would sentence him to four months in the house of correction and suspend that sentence for six months.

Assault in Barber Shop

Quans Kabilian was charged with assault and battery on Simeon LeRoy and also the larceny of $2.00 from LeRoy. He entered a plea of not guilty and by agreement the case was continued until next Tuesday.

Kabilian conducts a barber shop in Paige street and it is alleged that yesterday afternoon, LeRoy went into the place and got shaved. After the operation had been performed, LeRoy informed the barber that the shave was not to his liking but tendered him a ten dollar bill. The men got into an argument with the result that it is alleged the barber struck LeRoy over the head with a head rest taken from one of the chairs. LeRoy was sent to the hospital and Kabilian was sent to the police station.

VICTORIES FOR FRENCH AND RUSSIAN FORCES

Mile of German First Line Trenches at Verdun Captured by French—Russian Victory in Galicia—Teutons Capture 20,000 Rumanians

The capture of German first line trenches over a front of one mile before Verdun, was announced today by the French war office.

The ground was won in the long-contested sector east of the Meuse, between the Vaux-Chapelle region and the town of Chenoy. It is in this sector, where the Germans most nearly approached a definite breach in the defenses of the city, that the heaviest fighting has been in progress recently.

Fighting Along Somme

On the Somme front the principal activity of last night was on the initiative of the Germans, who made a determined effort to recapture from the British the small section of ground along the Guillemont-Cambes highway known as Leuze wood. The German counter attack led to one of the fiercest man to man struggles with hand grenades and bayonets, which have characterized the recent fighting along the Somme. London reports officially that in the end the Germans were beaten back.

To Drop Somme Offensive

An intimation that the Somme offensive may soon be dropped for the winter is contained in a despatch from the British front. A staff officer is quoted as saying that if the British wait until spring before making further great efforts there will be available four times the present great quantity of artillery and correspondingly vast stores of ammunition.

British Ships Shell Bulgars

In Greek Macedonia the campaign still lags. An official report from London shows that British warships are being used to shell coastal positions of the Bulgarian troops which occupied northeastern Greece. Aside from patrol encounters and artillery engagements, there was little activity on this front yesterday.

Important Russian Victory

An important Russian victory in eastern Galicia is indicated by today's official announcement from Petrograd. It says the city of Hatticz, 60 miles southeast of Lemberg, is under bombardment and in flames. The capture of railroad lines in this vicinity also is reported.

Since the opening of the new Russian drive the heaviest pressure has been directed against the Austro-German lines above and below Lemberg and there has been constant fighting before Hatticz. This city is on the trunk line railroad running southeast from Lemberg to Stanislaw and Kolomea and is also the southern terminus of another line. Its strategic importance is indicated further by the fact that it is on the Danister at its junction with the Gnila Lipa.

Teutons Capture 20,000 Rumanians

The first definite success of the new campaign between Rumania and Bulgaria has been won by the Bulgarians, assisted by the Germans. Berlin announces that Petrograd concedes the capture of the Rumanian fortress of Turutkal, one of a series of fortresses defending Bu-harest from the south. The German official report says 20,000 Rumanians and 100 guns were captured. The Petrograd announcement states that the Rumanians evacuated the fort.

The Rumanian war office reports further successes in the invasion of Hungary. Another mountain pass on the northern front has been taken by Rumanian troops, which also captured seven guns and a number of machine guns.

KING OF GREECE RECEIVES OFFICERS WHO REFUSED TO JOIN THE REBELS

ATHENS, Sept. 6, via London, Sept. 7.—King Constantine today received 150 officers of the Eleventh division of the Greek army stationed at Saloniki, who had refused to join the rebels when a revolution broke out in the Saloniki garrison on Sept. 1. The king delivered an address, congratulating the officers on their action, saying it constituted a brilliant page in military history and a great example for coming generations.

King Constantine said the loyalty of the officers put a stigma upon those, including the general commanding the Eleventh division, who broke their oath. With such officers and men as those whom he was addressing his Majesty said, he was ready to face any enemy.

NORMAL SCHOOL HAS INCREASED ATTENDANCE

With the largest registration in the history of the school, the 1916-17 term of the State Normal School in this city opened this morning. The length of the term is approximately 35 weeks. The school roll this year contains about 230 names which is about 30 more than last year and considerably more than in any year in the history of the school. Lowell and Lawrence are the homes of most of the students although every city and town in the Merrimack valley together with Cambridge, Wakefield, Woburn and many other cities and towns are represented in this year's membership.

Principal John J. Mahoney, who is starting his first year as the head of the State Normal School, having finished the term of the late Cyrus Durkin last year, stated this forenoon that the accommodations are adequate for the increased registration. There are no additional rooms, however, and the teachers remain the same as a year ago. No changes were made at the school during the summer vacation. This is the 19th year of the State Normal School in Lowell.

Although Mr. Mahoney stated that everything at the school would be practically the same as last year, it is understood that he is gradually introducing improvements by which better results will be obtained. He plans for attaining the best results and organizes all the energies of the school to that end.

STRIKEBREAKERS WORK ON NEW YORK CARS

Union Leaders Claim 9000 Quit—The L Trains Bombarded With Stones—4000 Police on Guard

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The city today was apparently but little affected by the strike which began late last night on the subway, elevated lines and several of the surface lines of the Interborough Rapid Transit system. Trains in the subway and on the "I" moved almost normally and the crowds going to work during the rush hours of the morning suffered little inconvenience. Surface line traffic on the "Green car" system, operated by the New York Railways Co., was not so good, only about 30 per cent of the usual number of cars being operated.

Union leaders, who demand abrogation by the company of the so-called "master and servant" contracts binding the employees not to ask wage increases for two years, claimed that 9000 men had walked out, including 4000 on the subway and elevated systems. Traction officials, however, asserted that not more than 2000 men had quit work and that their places had been filled by strikebreakers.

Throughout the districts affected little disorder was reported. In Harlem and on the east side there were a few minor disturbances and in other sections a number of elevated trains were assailed with bricks by unidentified persons on foot tops. No one was seriously injured. The police department assigned 4000 patrolmen to the task of guarding property and passengers on cars and at stations.

Traction officials, admitting that "the gravity of the situation is such that at any moment a crisis may arise" were today providing stocks of food for strikebreakers, many of whom come from other cities where they had gathered in anticipation of a nation-wide railroad strike.

GREAT STRIKE THREATENED

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A million or more residents of New York left their homes early today not knowing whether or they would ride to work or walk. The first test of the strike declared last night by the union employees of the elevated and subway railways came with the morning rush hours on these arteries of travel between the two ends of Manhattan Island.

900 continuing appropriation for the tariff commission. Three hundred thousand dollars was retained for the year and the bill now stands the appropriation for future years was eliminated.

The house managers yielded the demand for restoration of the tax on copper, when the senate conferees threw out the stamp taxes.

The income inheritance and corporation stamp taxes as fixed in the senate bill were approved.

STAMP TAXES ELIMINATED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Conferees on the revenue bill were at work early today, but no assurance existed that their report could be submitted before tomorrow, or that congress would adjourn before Saturday.

Tentatively the conferees had agreed to eliminate the senate proposals for stamp taxes on various kinds of commercial papers and steamship and Pullman tickets, to abandon the house provision for tax on copper refiners and to increase from 10 to 12 1/2 per cent the net profit tax on munitions manufacturers in order to raise $3,000,000 additional revenue. The conferees also agreed to supply the continuing appropriation for the tariff commission also was reported to have been stricken out. Revision of the wine tax schedule and the Phelan amendment authorizing retaliatory action by withholding mail and communication privileges from governments of foreign countries, which discriminate against American trade, was being considered by the conferees, it was said.

Among the provisions whose retention it was thought would be recommended are the license tax on corporation stock, increased duty on distillates, higher income and inheritance taxes, tariff commission and the retaliatory steps against foreign ships. Senator Owen was intent today on continuing his fight for the corrupt practices bill, but leaders insisted it would not come to a vote before adjournment.

BRITISH COMMENT ON BILL

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Commenting on the amendment to the revenue bill passed by the United States senate Tuesday night empowering the president to retaliate against interference with American commerce the Manchester Guardian says that although those who see in it no more than a flourish, having a special virtue on the eve of election, may be right, "nevertheless we should do well to note two things: "First—These reprisals are directed against the allies and primarily against ourselves. "Second—They are popular in America."

The Guardian says it is not generally realized here how strong a sentiment has been aroused throughout the United States by the blacklist policy and interference with mails and asks "if the foreign office is convinced these practices of ours are so useful as to counter-balance the weakening of American sympathy they involve, or that they cannot be modified so as to meet American objections without impairing any utilities they may have for ourselves."

HOSPITAL PLANS ARE APPROVED BY COUNCIL

The plans for the proposed contagious hospital to be erected in Varnum avenue, this city, as prepared by Architect Henry L. Rourke were formally approved this morning by members of the contagious hospital commission and board of health, at a meeting held in the mayor's reception room at city hall, and it was voted to submit the plans to the state board of health and the county commissioners for their approval and as soon as this is done to call for bids.

Present at the meeting were Mayor O'Donnell, who presided; Dr. C. E. Simpson of the state board of health,

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Suit for $1,000,000 was filed by Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, against the Chicago Tribune in the United States district court here today. Mr. Ford asks for personal damages as compensation for an editorial printed in the Tribune June 25, which is charged called Ford an "anarchist."

NORWEGIAN STEAMER SUNK ROTTERDAM, Sept. 7, via London. The small Norwegian steamship Rida has been sunk. The crew was saved.

Dr. Thomas F. Carroll, John E. Drury and Arthur B. ... health: Dr. McCarthy, Fred Jonness and Clarence Nelson of the hospital commission.

At the opening of the meeting Architect Rourke submitted his plans and said they were all finished with the exception of the boiler house, for he did not know just where this building would be located. He also stated that the plans had been redrafted according to recommendations and that room for six additional beds for the county had been provided. He showed plans of cupolas with glass enclosure and glass doors, the latter of a sufficient width to permit the passage of a bed, and he said everything but specifications was in readiness for bids.

Mr. Rourke also stated that the plans call for three buildings to be known as "shacks," the administration building, the kitchen and dining room, the latter to be together in a separate one-story building, and the laundry. In reference to the laundry Mr. Rourke said he might place it over the boiler house. The hospital will contain 30 beds, 24 ordinary and six for bad cases. He also stated that the interior of the cupolas will be of plain wood finish and Dr. McCarthy objected to this on the grounds that the wood will eventually shrink, leaving open cracks for tuberculosis germs. Dr. Simpson stated that the cupolas will be thoroughly lighted and ventilated and that the light and air have a tendency to kill germs. It was also suggested that a plaster finish could be put in later and this proved satisfactory to Dr. McCarthy.

In the course of the meeting it was stated that 30 beds was not what the state required, for according to the law a city is to make provision for 1 bed to each 1000 inhabitants, but this would do for the present. It was finally voted to approve the plans and submit them to the state board of health and county commissioners for approval and as soon as this is done to call for bids. At the close of the meeting those present visited the premises where the proposed hospital will be erected in order to select a spot for the boiler house.

GUARDSMEN ARE MUSTERED OUT OF SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The 15,000 guardsmen returned from the border by the recent order of the war department were today ordered mustered out of the federal service. The guardsmen remaining on the border stay there for the present.

"The demobilization is understood to be a preliminary to the withdrawal of the punitive expedition from Mexico, which will take the guardsmen's places protecting the border line and is regarded as a consequence of the assembling of the international commission to settle border troubles."

War department official announcement was made in the following statement: "The secretary of war directs that all the organizations of the national guard in the federal service, recently ordered from the border to their respective mobilization camps, be mustered out of the federal service as soon as practicable and returned to the normal status of national guard troops except in the case of the 14th New York regiment, which is to be held in service for its mobilization camp pending the prevalence in that regiment of para-typhoid."

"As soon as it can be safely done this regiment also will be mustered out. Similar precaution should be taken with any other organization returning from the border suffering from any infection or which is under suspicion of being infected."

The troops affected are three regiments from New York, two from New Jersey, one from Maryland, two from Illinois, two from Missouri, one from California, one from Oregon, one from Washington, and one from Louisiana. These units comprise in the aggregate about 15,000 national guardsmen.

SKETCHES OF THE FAMOUS MEN OF THE RING

John Morrissey was a humble deck-hand on a steamboat, working hard, long hours for a very small salary. Indeed, when he was first discovered he could not fight and conquer all rude comers in his own strenuous style.

In those early days there were many hard rough-and-tumble fighters who traveled on their feet, and as a plain ordinary deckhand Morrissey was often called upon to subdue these pugilistic career and comfortable fortune which he now enjoys in his old age.

The late lamented Stanley Ketchel discovered his fighting ability when he was a waiter in the northwest, bouncing rough, quarrelsome fellows from the restaurants where he was employed.

Big Jess Willard was only an ordinary poorly paid cowboy when he found out that he could win his own way with his fists and became inspired with the heavyweight ambition, which he finally won.

Jim Jeffries developed his immense physique working as a boiler maker around Los Angeles, Cal., and being urged on by his fellow workmen to try his prowess against one Dan Lang, he polished him off in a couple of rounds at San Francisco.

Les Darcy, the new light heavy-weight champion of Australia, became a powerful athlete young fellow working as a blacksmith. Like Bob Fitzsimmons, another horsehoof, he developed a vigorous forelimb wallop especially that has made him a world and famous all-over the civilized world.

Tom Sharkey was an ordinary seaman in the navy when he began to spar with other sailors on board of the warships and discovered that he was intended for the ring. He made no mistake in his chosen profession, as his ring record shows.

It was by sparring in spare moments that the gallant Jack Dempsey, Jack McAuliffe and Jack Skelley learned the rudiments of the many art in the same cooperation over in old Williamsburg, Brooklyn, all young fellows, full of life and vigor. It was a start in the boxing game.

George Carpenter was a mere boy, working hard in the mines of France, when he discovered he could fight, and quickly and brilliantly he arose from a bantam to the exalted heavyweight champion of all Europe by his marvelous skill and fast ability.

The strenuous digging in the mines has produced some mighty powerful pugilists, such as Frank P. Slavin, George Chip, Jack Munroe and others. In fact, hard physical labor in youth produces fine, vigorous, robust, healthy men for almost any vocation in life.

Old Tom Meane was a young fiddler who roamed around the country fairs in England, when he suddenly realized that he had considerable boxing ability and he became one of the grandest of the British champions.

Fred Fulton, who now looms up as a formidable contender for the heavy-weight championship, was only a main plasterer, working at his trade, when he took a chance of boxing Jess Willard in an exhibition when the circus hit Rochester, Minn. He astonished the natives by his fine showing against the gigantic champion and is now seeking the highest pugilistic honors.

Jim Coffey was only a motorman around these "diggies" when he suddenly got into a street scrap that led him into the professional ring, and he has made a big bundle of "dough" in the fight game since then.

IN FACT, MANY GOOD FIGHTERS HAVE GRADUATED FROM THE HIGH SEAS

Billy Murphy, the former world's featherweight champion, started out in life as a sailor and since his retirement from the ring has returned to his first vocation to earn his daily bread by.

Bartling Levinsky was a salesman for a jewelry firm in Philadelphia before he took to the ring.

Frank Whitney, like the great Dan Donnelly, the once Irish champion of all England, was a carpenter before he entered the fight game.

John L. Sullivan was a young fellow learning the trade of tin-smithing in South Boston, when the boss of the shop kicked him for staying away from work at his dinner hour, playing baseball.

PLOW GRADUATE STIMPSON SOON NOW AT HEAD OF PACERS IN WORCESTER

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 7.—The sport at Charter Oak yesterday afternoon was the best that the Grand Circuit horses have offered since reaching New England. The pacers provided some dazzling flashes of speed, the colts trotted and only heads apart and the scrabble for the smaller divisions of the purse in the 2:12 pacing division was interesting.

Napoleon Direct, the graduate of the plow, who now stands at the head of racing pacers, had the track to himself in the feature event and really won as he liked.

The big fellow is in such fine form at present that neither Cox nor Murphy cared to wait their horses out racing him all the way, so they left the fight to a brush each trip.

Geers was content to make the pace moderate as far as possible and the time at the half in all three miles was disappointingly slow for the spectators.

From the middle post home, however, the clip was fast enough to catch in the first mile and the final quarter in 25 1/2 seconds. The distance was covered in 3:37 1/2 in the second heat, the last two furlongs being in 28 1/2. They were 5:53, making the half in the third mile, the last quarter again being in 28 1/2.

Single G., in trying to land the place in the third heat, came from the three-quarters home in 27 1/2.

Responds to Call for Speed Napoleon Direct showed a bit of his true white color in the finish of this mile. Roan Hal and Single G. were coming faster than Geers figured and they drew up so they were lapped. Geers took his horse in hand and shook him up and the way the son of Walter Direct responded to the call for speed was surprising even to the men who had seen him at his best.

RED SOX STILL LEAD TIGERS BY ONE FULL GAME

It was a good thing that the Red Sox won from the Mackmen yesterday for Detroit, which is just one game behind in the league standing, triumphed over the St. Louis Browns and the margin between the two teams remains the same.

"Dutch" Leonard, who recently twirled a no-hit, no-run game, baffled the Athletics at nearly every turn and Tom Sheehan, who pitched for Mack, was hit hard especially in the third, when three runs were scored off him.

Walsh, recently obtained from Philadelphia, played center field in place of Tilly Walker, but was unable to register a hit. Harold Jannin and Larry Gardner led the Red Sox at the bat with two hits apiece.

Manager Carrigan viewed the game from the grandstand. He is under a three day suspension as a result of his verbal battle in the first game of Tuesday's double header, when he was banished by Silk O'Loughlin.

Brin interfered with the scheduled double header between the Braves and the Phillies. Weather permitting, two games will be played this afternoon and the Braves have a fine chance to get a grip on first place. Brooklyn will come to Boston tomorrow for a series of games.

Ty stole second and when Hartley's low throw bounded into Centre-Fielder Maranville's hands he dashed to third. MR. FAIRGRIEVE IS APPOINTED POSTMASTER

President Wilson today nominated Arthur J. Fairgrieve postmaster for Tewksbury and the appointment has gone to the senate for confirmation. Mr. Fairgrieve is the present postmaster and the people of Tewksbury whom he has so well served will be glad to hear of his reappointment.

Arthur Fairgrieve became postmaster for Tewksbury, Sept. 1, 1914. The

ARTHUR J. FAIRGRIEVE

Tewksbury postoffice was then of the fourth class and under civil service. Mr. Fairgrieve took the civil service examination in this city and received the appointment because of the fact that he stood highest on the list. The postoffice, since his appointment, has gone into the third class and the appointment of postmaster is now made by the president and confirmed by the senate. Mr. Fairgrieve's father, the late James Fairgrieve, was postmaster under the Cleveland administration. He was succeeded by Mr. George D. Fortinelli who was appointed under the McKinley administration and when the job opened up under the civil service commission, the present postmaster, Arthur J. Fairgrieve, got the appointment.

Mr. Fairgrieve is well and favorably known in Tewksbury, Lowell and elsewhere. He is a young man of excellent habits and his general store, which includes the postoffice, is centrally located and handy and convenient for everybody concerned. He is not only well liked by the people of Tewksbury, but also by visitors who are very plentiful, especially in the summer months. He is very obliging and ready to do a good turn, and attends strictly to business. Tewksbury is to be congratulated on his reappointment.

Other Postmasters Appointed

The senate has also provided for confirmation of the following postmasters as appointed by the president: Frederick H. Niles, Gardner; Joseph L. Mahan, Natick; James B. Logan, North Weymouth; John T. Toomey, Oxford; Everett P. Sheridan, Warren.

Thieves have been operating in Dunstable and vicinity of late and despite the vigilance of the police of that town they have been unable to apprehend the culprits. Recently the Boston & Maine station was broken into and A. W. Swallow's residence was entered and ransacked Sunday night. Two bicycles have also been stolen, one belonging to Henry Lund and the other to Howard Brown. Monday night a quantity of milk was taken from James Kendall's farm.

A. Faucher, a local baker, and a young man who was with him, had a narrow escape from being badly injured Tuesday when the automobile in which they were riding went over a six-foot embankment in Lakeview avenue near Walbrook and landed bottom side up in a swamp. Mr. Faucher lost control of the machine when nearing the embankment and was unable to prevent it from going into the swamp. Mr. Faucher and the other occupants of the car received a bad shaking up but escaped with minor bruises and a few scratches.

CIRCLE OF STEEL STEADILY PRESSES ON CENTRAL POWERS FROM ALL SIDES

With the French driving on toward Peronne, the Russians taking Carpathian points, pressing on to Hungary; with Rumania on the east and Italy on the west pushing northward against Austria; with strong allied forces at Saloniki, Greece pitted against Bulgaria and the Teutonic forces; with the right of the sea blocked to any of the ships of the central powers, an effective ring of iron is now drawn around Germany and her allies. This is most graphically illustrated by this map. Shaded countries in map are those that are at war with Germany.

threats to halt surface as well as subway and elevated traffic, New York faces the biggest and most vital strike in its history. The geographical formation of Manhattan Island—long and narrow—the wide distribution of population of the greater city and the concentration of the business, made New York peculiarly susceptible to any interruption of street car traffic.

3000 Strikebreakers at Work

When the workers of the city started for their places of employment today, the Amalgamated Association of Street & Electric Railway Employees, which is conducting the strike, had been unable to tie up the subway and elevated lines but had succeeded in crippling some of the most important surface lines. With the aid of nearly 3000 strikebreakers and under police protection, the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., was running its subway and "L" trains almost on normal schedules. The strike of the Interborough employees has spread, however, to the carmen of the New York Railways Co., which operates all but two of the important surface lines in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx. Lines in Broadway, in the system of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., are thus far at peace.

15,000 Employees Affected

Approximately 15,000 employees are affected. The immediate cause of the strike is the refusal of the Interborough Co. to release the men from an agreement to seek no further improvement in working conditions for a period of two years after the advance in pay which the men received last month. Behind these demands, however, is a contest over the unionization of the street car workers of the city, among whom the Amalgamated association has gained a strong footing only during the last few months.

Elevated Train Stopped

The union employees of the Interborough Co. voted to strike at 3:30 o'clock last night and several thousand union men immediately scattered through the city to win over all street car employees to their cause. Little effect from the strike was noticeable during the night. One elevated train was pelted with bricks, the passengers were taken off and the train sent back empty to the terminal with a few broken windows. About midnight several hundred men, many of whom were the union button, crowded into the subway at the Grand Central railway station and induced all the ticket choppers and platform guards to leave their places. The company quickly filled their places.

3000 Policemen On Duty

In response to the railway company's appeal for protection, five thousand policemen were released from patrol duty today and made available for strike duty. Two of these patrolmen were placed on guard at every subway and elevated station and two rode on every train. For the protection of motormen heavy wire screens were nailed to the exposed sides of the cars, vestibules.

Police Guard Cars

The traction chiefs declared that they could maintain service on the subway and elevated lines but expressed fear that police protection would not be adequate to enable them to keep the regular number of surface cars running. As a precaution all the cars on the Twenty-third street cross-town line were sent to the yards at midnight and the train sent back empty to the terminal with a few broken windows. About midnight several hundred men, many of whom were the union button, crowded into the subway at the Grand Central railway station and induced all the ticket choppers and platform guards to leave their places. The company quickly filled their places.

Investigation Started

The public service commission has started a general investigation of the strike and subterfuge. The commission has taken the testimony of the Interborough Co. and officers of the employees' union to appear before the commission this morning.

PREMIER ZAIMIS IS NOW DICTATOR OF GREECE

HAS SUPPORT OF VENIZELOS PARTY AND PARTY OPPOSED TO VENIZELOS

PREMIER ZAIMIS OF GREECE

One of the first steps which placed full powers in the hands of Premier Zaimis of Greece, making him virtually dictator over night, was taken when he forbade public gatherings. The arrangement whereby the issuance of the decree dissolving the now adjourned parliament and calling new elections was postponed indefinitely disposed effectually of any parliamentary interference with the policy of the government. Finally the premier requested and received the unqualified support of the leaders of the Venizelos party and of the party opposed to Venizelos, thus giving the temporary cabinet a political character. Greece at last found herself partially satisfied, and all through the workings of an individual who was neither King Constantine nor former Premier Venizelos. The solution of the political mudslide which has kept Greece in a condition of wavering neutrality for two years was effected quietly, and the public was not aware of the ex-

WOMEN IN DEBATE ON METHOD OF CAMPAIGN

QUESTION NOT YET SETTLED, ACCORDING TO MRS. CATT, PRESIDENT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7.—Delegates to the annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association were prepared today for another debate on the method of conducting its campaign in the future. It was thought this question was settled when the association voted to continue its present policy of pressing both national and state legislation to bring about woman suffrage, but Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president, yesterday offered a resolution interpreting that article of the association's constitution which pledges auxiliary support of the federal amendment to mean that the federal amendment is the immediate and principal aim and that state efforts, whether legislative or referendum, and only preparatory to that end. Administration leaders in the association said the proposed resolution was adopted. Mrs. Catt expected to deliver the president's address today.

MANAGER CARRIGAN SAYS RED SOX ARE SURE PENNANT WINNERS

BOSTON, MASS., Sept. 7.—Bill Carrigan says he is sure the Red Sox are going to win this year's American league pennant. In talking about his team's chances of capturing this season's flag the leader of the Sox said the other day: "Our team is stronger than any other in Ban Johnson's circuit. With an even break in luck there is nothing to stop us. Detroit is strong, but we are stronger. My pitchers are now in good form, and with the return of Barry I look for the team to lead the band from Sept. 15th to the finish." JESSE POMEROY 40 YEARS A PRISONER TODAY

SERVED LONGER THAN ANY IN CHARLESTOWN PRISON—BENEFITED BY DAILY WALKS

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Jesse Pomroy, the noted life prisoner, today will complete 40 years of confinement in the state prison at Charlestown for the murder of little Mary Curran, 11-year-old South Boston girl. He has been behind the bars longer than any other convict in the prison.

Pomroy is in good health and the privileges granted him by the executive council have been very beneficial. He is permitted to attend religious services and some time ago he attended a moving picture show at the prison. The improved condition of his mind, since he was permitted to attend chapel and have an hour and a half outdoor recreation daily with his guard, has been noticed by Warden Allen, Rev. M. J. Murphy and Rev. William Bradley Whitney, the prison chaplains. There are practically the only ones permitted to talk with him.

Since his mother died about a year ago, Pomroy's only visitor has been his brother, who lives in the western part of the state.

Pomroy passes most of his time in reading and writing. He is permitted to read books, magazines and papers. He does practically no work. About two years ago he expressed a desire to do some light work in his cell and a small knitting machine was installed there, but he later complained of his eyesight and gave up knitting. He is partially blind in one eye, due to long continued reading and study.

On one of Gov. Walsh's visits to the prison Pomroy was asked by the governor why he did not have an up-erated performed on his eye to improve his sight, but Pomroy said he did not care to run any risk of losing it.

MINSTREL SHOW

St. Joseph's College Alumni of This City Will Give Minstrel and Operetta in Nashua

Arrangements were completed last evening for the minstrel and operetta which will be given in the parochial school hall of the Infant Jesus church in Nashua, N. H., next Thursday evening by a group of Lowell amateurs. The evening's profit will go toward swelling the new church fund and the affair will be given under the auspices of St. Joseph's college alumni of this city.

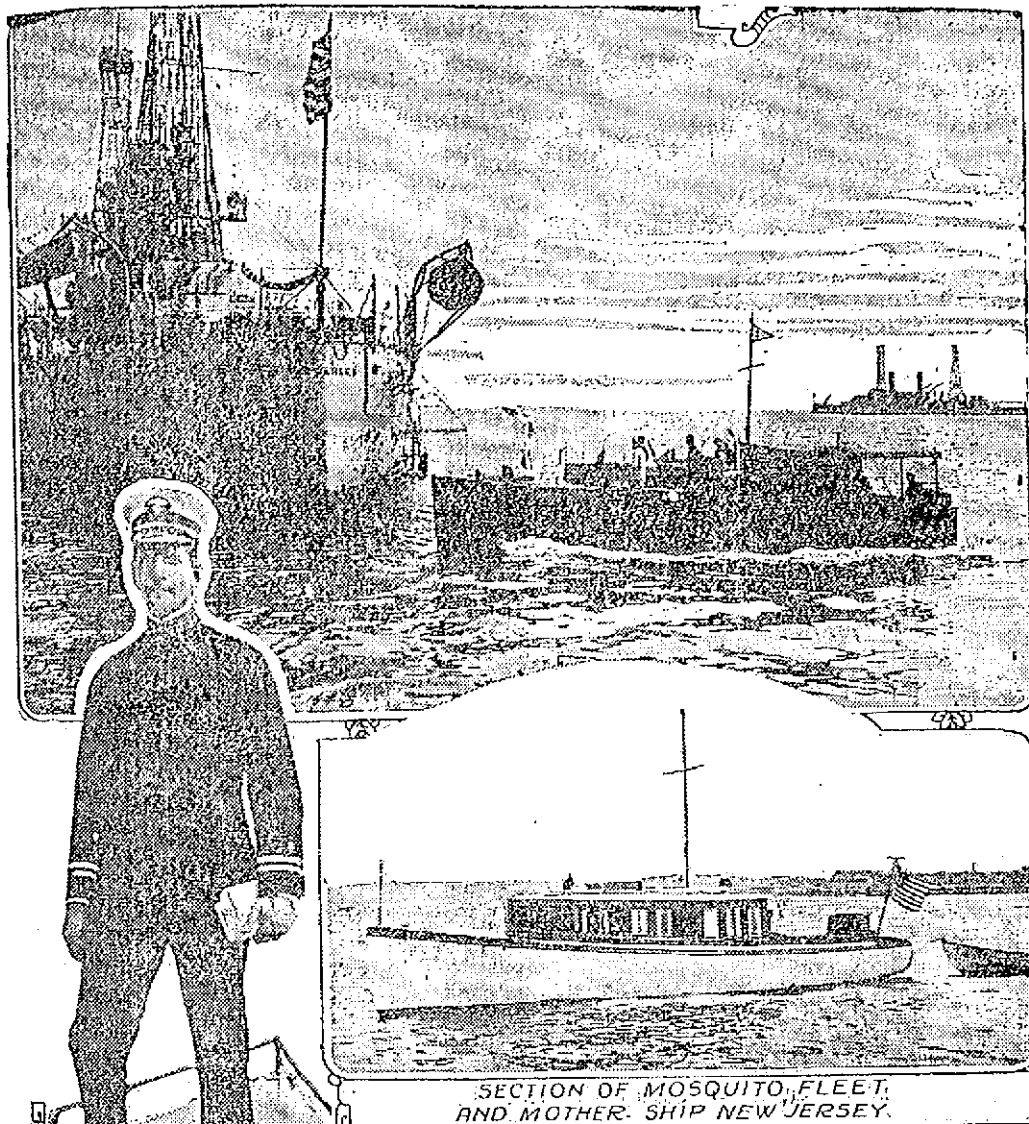

A committee of three composed of J. B. Richard, E. S. Desmarais and E. J. Larochele went to Nashua last evening in Mr. Desmarais' automobile and conferred with Rev. J. G. A. Juras, pastor of the parish, who promised to fill the hall. The first part of the program will consist of a minstrel entertainment, and those who will take part are as follows: Edmund N. Foley, Horridas and Felix Ducharme, Armand Dupont, Arthur Lavelle, W. P. Caisse, Jr., Arthur Brunelle, J. and A. Genereau, Arthur Renaud, Arthur Larochele, Eugene L. Blanchette, E. S. Desmarais, J. Lapointe, A. St. Jean, Leonce Gionet, H. Josselin, E. J. Larochele and others. The second part of the program will consist of a one-act operetta entitled "Les Deux Aveugles," which will be interpreted by Arthur Lavelle and E. J. Larochele. Miss Blanche Josselin of this city will be the accompanist for the evening. The trip to Nashua will be made in automobiles.

GASOLINE IS DOWN AGAIN
NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A reduction of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline, making the wholesale price now 22 cents a gallon, was announced here yesterday by the Standard Oil company. This is the second cut in the price of gasoline this year. The reason given was the heavy increase in the production of crude oil.

$19 FOR KISS HE DIDN'T GET
BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Nineteen dollars for a kiss that he did not get was the price Michael J. Dailey, a 34-year-old Newton Center man, paid in a Newton court yesterday. He was arraigned on the charge of assault and battery upon Mrs. Edith James, a colored woman, who testified that Dailey tried to kiss her on Lake avenue last Saturday night. She also said that he broke her glasses and umbrella in the attempt. Dailey explained his error on the ground that he was intoxicated, and paid the costs.

mosquito fleet in and around New York's harbor. The fleet consists of the navy is far from an easy task. Captain L. H. Kaiser, senior officer present in command of the battleship New Jersey, mother ship for the mosquito fleet, is well satisfied with the work done, however. Under the supervision of Lieutenant P. W. Wilcox, United States navy, who has been in charge of the details of the motorboat drill, their owners have been put through stiff paces. There have been maneuvers in squadron formation, attacks by some motorboats, backed by hydro aeroplanes, spraying out mines and destroyers, while other motorboats and destroyers defended certain waters at the entrances to the harbor and Swath channels. Then there have been night drills with screened lights, practice in signaling with the Ardois and other apparatus. The drill periods are from 5.30 to 11.30 a. m. from 1.30 to 4 p. m. and from 8 to 10 p. m. Dummy periscopes on small boats have been used to represent submarines, and floating and anchored mines for the motorboats to dodge were placed everywhere. Group A was assigned to the battleship New Jersey, with Lieutenant Keep in charge. The Sunbeam II, with R. B. Roosevelt as group commander, was made its flagship. His fleet consists of E. T. Rothchild's Lillian II, August Belmont, Jr.'s Barracuda and C. E. Parker's Louisa. Group B, assigned to the Maine, in charge of Lieutenant Cecil, received the Atlantis as flagship, with L. H. Dyer as commander. His fleet—H. S. Beardsley's Mustang, H. E. Boucher's Zita, W. M. Brown's Albatross and J. P. Huntington's Troubadour. Group C, assigned to the Kentucky, in charge of Lieutenant Ellis, has for its flagship the Florence, with Matthew Rock as commander. His fleet—Hendon Chubb's Satellite, Sigmund Cohen's Rosa, W. K. Donnelly's Dawn, F. P. Farrell, Jr.'s Dawn and W. T. Wheeler's Tec. William Ziegler, Jr.'s Gen and Harold L. Pratt's Dodge II were assigned to do special service with the destroyers, and another special service boat is the Baha II, owned by H. H. Gordon, Jr. The men in charge of the flying boats are E. S. Willard, John Pratt and Lieutenant G. D. Murray. The upper picture shows the battleship New Jersey with the battleship Sunbeam II. In the lower pictures are the motorboat Barracuda and Lieutenant P. W. Wilcox.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS

John H. Lambert, Richard Brimbrook, Walsh, John C. Leggett and Herford N. Elliott of the school board; Agent Bates, John E. Drury and Dr. Thomas P. Carroll of the board of health; Dr. C. E. Simpson of the state board of health, Supt. Molloy of the school department.

The matter of opening the schools next week was discussed and Dr. Simpson gave his opinion that there would be less chance for an epidemic by having the children in the schools than by having them running around the streets and attending moving picture shows. He said, in the schools the children would be under medical supervision, and this would make things much easier to detect a case of infantile paralysis. Dr. Lambert stated that he gathered statistics in the board of health office concerning the cases of infantile paralysis and the deaths due to the disease reported in this city during the past seven years, and with the exception of one year, the number of deaths reported this year is less. The statistics produced by Dr. Lambert were as follows:

Year	Cases	Deaths
1911	8	2
1912	19	3
1913	4	3
1914	7	3
1915	12	3
1916	12	1

Dates of Opening

It was finally decided to open the schools as follows:
Monday forenoon, high school.
Tuesday forenoon, Bartlett; afternoon, Butler.
Wednesday forenoon, Colburn and Benson; afternoon, Green.
Thursday forenoon, Greenhalge; afternoon, Lincoln.
Friday forenoon, Moody; afternoon, Morcy.
Saturday forenoon, Pawtucket and New Moody; afternoon, Varum.
Monday forenoon, Sept. 18, Washington.

The Riverside school will open at the same time as the primary schools, the date to be set later. It was also decided that the primary grades located in a grammar school will open on the same date as the grammar grades of that particular school.

At the close of the conference, Chairman Lambert of the school board gave out the following statement for publication:

"The plan to open the schools for the older children first is because practically all these children are over the age most dangerous for the contracting of the disease. The younger boys and girls are more susceptible to infection and they will come later. Each child will be given a thorough medical examination by the school physicians and we feel that the community will be much safer with schools opened than closed. The state health officer, Dr. C. E. Simpson, will supply us with a list of the nearby streets that are affected with infantile paralysis and for some time to come children coming from those infected districts will not be admitted in the Lowell public schools."

In closing, the doctor said there is no fear of an epidemic of infantile paralysis in this city, but "safety first" is a good motto.

DANCE AT WILLOW DALE

Bowers Avenue Campers Have Another Celebration Tonight—Provided by Humphrey O'Sullivan

The campers at Bowers avenue, Willow Dale, who conducted the big carnival on last Sunday evening, are to have another celebration this evening, when a dance complimentary to campers and friends will be held at the Willow Dale pavilion. Tonight's affair was made possible through the generosity of Humphrey O'Sullivan. Mr. O'Sullivan was a guest of the campers on last Sunday evening and he insisted that the committee make a donation from him. As all bills for the carnival had been paid, those in charge decided to put the money toward a dancing party. This was acceptable to Mr. O'Sullivan and the hall and an orchestra were secured for tonight. The festivities will open with a concert, after which general dancing will be started, and continued till midnight. The campers are still receiving congratulations over the success of the carnival and indications point to an other enjoyable time this evening. All the friends of the campers are invited to attend tonight's entertainment, and it is expected that Mr. O'Sullivan will be among those present. The committee in charge of the affair is composed of the following residents of Bowers avenue: John F. Golden, chairman, John J. Hennessy, Carl Richards, I. Abrams, Charles Landers, Leo Daly, Charles Smith, Frank Finerty, Fred Webster, John Baxter, William Heathcock, William Kennedy, Fred Lynch, John McIntyre, Eugene Knowlton, Ralph T. Chapman, J. Frank Sullivan, Fred Riley, Edward Shanahan, Patrick Flannery, George John, Charles Rogers, Albert Rogers, Leo McEvoy, Arthur Leaver, Fred Cunningham and David Richards.

PICKETS SCORED

made him look like a bushman and caused to clothes that would indicate that he had slept in them for a long time, was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with threatening Albert A. Casey, a farmer in Dunstable, yesterday morning. The defendant, who speaks very little English, is hard of hearing and seemed to be disinterested in court events, kept closing his eyes during the examination of the government witnesses and frequently interrupting so that when the government's case was presented Judge Enright suspended the hearing until Sept. 16 and in the meantime the man will be placed under observation in order to ascertain if he is sane.

According to Mr. Casey, Richera called at his home some time ago and wanted to know if he would be allowed to sleep in the barn. Mr. Casey would not allow him to do this but told him there was a shack in the rear of the place and that he could stay there if he desired. Richera has been occupying the shack for a long time and made a garden and lived on the truck which he gathered from it.

Despite the fact that the shack, land, etc., are owned by Mr. Casey, it was alleged that yesterday morning while Mr. Casey was fixing a plough in his barn Richera came along and accused him of stealing some vegetables from his garden. Mr. Casey said: "Richera came up to me with an axe and said: 'You have been in my garden and I am going to kill you.' I stopped aside and he dropped the axe beside me and in order to protect myself I knocked him down and then sent for the police."

Constable Charles Glover was notified and the man was brought to this city where he was booked for threatening.

Settled With Friend

Mohamed Said was charged with breaking and entering the home of Hassan Morsh on July 22 and the larceny of $30 in money, a dress suit case and a shirt but after the court had heard the testimony in the case the complaint was changed to larceny and inasmuch as Said had returned the money which he stole, upon the payment of the costs of court the case was placed on file.

It seems that Said and the complainant were friends and recently when the latter came home he found Said asleep in his bed. He had no objection to his staying there but when he awoke in the morning he found that Said and money were missing. The matter was reported to the police and last week it was learned that Said was in Beekman and Sergt. McLaughlin went there and brought the man back to Lowell.

Son Was Fined $10

David Sou was charged with the larceny of a night dress, blanket and a pair of slippers, all to the value of $12, the property of Rachel J. Robinson. He entered a plea of guilty. Sou lived in the house adjoining that of the complainant and while the latter was away to the beach he entered the place and stole the articles which were later recovered by the police. In Beekman, said that the man had met with an injury to his foot recently, but had been drinking heavily and was sleeping in cellar ways. Sou's wife said that her husband was of no use to her and abused her at times, but she was willing to support him until he is able to go to work again. Owing to the man's crippled condition the court imposed a fine of $10 and gave the man two months in which to pay it.

Stole Money And Beer

Dominick Laba was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of $11 from Jan Chesla of Kenwood on Sept. 4. According to the testimony of Sergt. Petrie, who made the arrest, Laba entered the home of Chesla on Labor day and removed a case of beer and stole $15 in money. Laba admitted he took the money but denied that he had touched the beer. The arresting officer said that Laba had been drunk ever since he took the money and was under the influence of liquor when placed under arrest last night. The case of drunkenness was placed on file, and Laba was ordered to pay a fine of $25 for larceny.

Assault And Battery

Charles Bernick charged with assaulting Patrick McNulty on August 12th entered a plea of not guilty. McNulty was charged with assaulting Bernick on the night of the 12th when Bernick said that he was in a Middlesex street saloon on the night of the 12th when Bernick started to "butt" in and he pushed him aside. As McNulty was leaving the place between 10.30 and 11 o'clock he said Bernick picked up a chair and broke it over his head. Another witness said he saw one man strike another over the head with a chair but was unable to identify either the complainant or defendant. The court found Bernick guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $25.

Case Continued

George Bailey, charged with assault and battery, entered a plea of not guilty and by agreement the case was continued until Sept. 17.

Claire Berube, who was charged with drunkenness, said she was not guilty despite the fact that she had been at the city hospital for several days recuperating. Owing to the fact that some of the witnesses were absent the case was continued until tomorrow morning.

Gave Themselves Up

Salim K. Hussan and Nicholas Andrews, who were wanted by the police in connection with an assault in Suffolk street Monday night, were "tipped" off that the police were looking for them and after securing some persons to go on their hands put in an appearance at the police station last night.

Keegan-McDermott

The marriage of Patrolman William L. Keegan, a popular member of the local police department, and Miss Mary McDermott, a charming young resident of St. Margaret's parish, took place at 5 o'clock last evening, at St. Margaret's parochial residence in Stevens street, Rev. Charles J. Galligan, pastor, performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Catherine V. Hennessy, while the bridegroom's attendant was Mr. Joseph A. McDermott, brother of the bride. The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine with overdress of Chantilly lace, and she carried a cluster of roses and lilies. The bridesmaid was becomingly attired in pearl tulle with white tulle lace and silver trimmings. At the conclusion of the marriage ceremony, the bridal party retired to the home of the bride in Chelmsford street, where a delightful reception was held. The happy couple was assisted in the receiving line by Mr. and Mrs. John T. McDermott, parents of the bride, Mrs. Hubert McLaughlin, Mrs. Thomas M. Keegan, Mrs. Margaret Hennessy and Mr. James Brock of Boston, the latter an uncle of the bride. The ushers were Messrs. James F. Hennessy, William P. Hennessy, John V. Donoghue and Frank McKenna. The interior of the house was beautifully adorned with greenery and cut flowers. Luncheon was served and an orchestra furnished music. During the evening, vocal selections were rendered by Miss Catherine V. Hennessy. Mr. and Mrs. Keegan departed on their honeymoon on a late train and upon their return they will reside at 535 Wilder street.

and gave themselves up. When arraigned in court this morning they were charged with assault and battery and their cases were continued until next Wednesday. Michael Andrew, who is also a defendant in the case, was before the court yesterday and his case was continued until Wednesday.

Drunken Offenders

There were but few drunken offenders in court this morning. One of the number who appeared in court in a drunken condition yesterday morning was ordered to pay a fine of $5 and another offender was also fined $5. One man was given a suspended sentence of six months in the house of correction, another was given a sentence to the state farm and still another was sent to the jail for ten days. Six drunks were released.

ALL GRAMMAR SCHOOLS WILL OPEN NEXT WEEK

With Exception of Washington and Riverside Schools—Opening Dates Agreed Upon Today

After a conference between members of the Lowell school board, Lowell board of health and a representative of the state board of health, held this forenoon in the school board's office, it was decided to open all the grammar schools of the city next week, with the exception of the Washington and the Riverside schools, the former to open on Monday morning, Sept. 18, while the latter will open at the same time as the primary schools, the date to be set later. Each child attending a public school will undergo a thorough examination in order to ascertain whether or not he or she is infected with infantile paralysis.

Present at the conference were Dr. C. J. Enright, chairman of the board of health, and Dr. J. W. Smith, chairman of the state board of health.

PICKETS SCORED BY COURT

Judge Enright Will Not Stand for Rowdiness and Assaults—Cart-ridge Shop Employee Assaulted

Judge Enright this morning announced that owing to the numerous assaults that have taken place in the vicinity of the United States Cartridge Co.'s plant as a result of the rowdiness of the pickets, if defendants are found guilty, they will be given direct sentences instead of fines or suspensions.

Joseph Lescarbeau was charged with assault and battery on Joseph R. Ferris on August 30. Ferris, who is employed at the plant, was coming out of the place at the night in question and he was accompanied by two of his cousins, who are employed in the Merrimack mills. It is alleged that Lescarbeau, who was acting as picket, called the men vile names and then pushed Ferris. Owing to the fact that the latter had been recently released from the hospital after undergoing an operation, he was in a weakened condition and fell into the street.

Lescarbeau, who some time ago lost one of his lower limbs and uses an artificial limb, testified that he was one of the pickets and did not push Ferris. He wanted to speak to the men with him, telling them not to go to work, when the crowd behind him pushed him forward and when he put out his hands to save himself, they came in contact with Ferris and the latter fell to the ground.

Chief Martin Conway of the U. S. Cartridge Co. said that during the past three weeks there have been more than 30 assaults, but owing to the fact that he has been given orders not to make any arrests unless it was absolutely essential, he had not brought any of the violators of the law into court before.

The court, after considering the evidence in the case, said that people have a right to strike and that peaceful picketing is lawful, but that those who wish to work must be protected and that he will not stand for any rowdiness or further assaults. He said that owing to the physical condition of the defendant, he would sentence him to four months in the house of correction and suspend that sentence for six months.

Assault in Barber Shop

Ohans Katibian was charged with assault and battery on Simeon LeRoy and also the larceny of $9.00 from LeRoy. He entered a plea of not guilty and by agreement the case was continued until next Tuesday.

Katibian conducts a barber shop in Paige street and it is alleged that yesterday afternoon, LeRoy went into the place and got shaved. After the operation had been performed, LeRoy informed the barber that the shave was not to his liking but tendered him a ten dollar bill. The men got into an argument with the result that it is alleged the barber struck LeRoy over the head with a head rest taken from one of the chairs. LeRoy was sent to the hospital and Katibian was sent to the police station.

GREAT VICTORIES FOR FRENCH AND RUSSIANS

Mile of German First Line Trenches at Verdun Captured by French—Russian Victory in Galicia—Teutons Capture 20,000 Rumanians

The capture of German first line trenches over a front of one mile before Verdun, was announced today by the French war office.

The ground was won in the long-contested sector east of the Meuse, between the Vaux-Chapelle region and the town of Chenols. It is in this sector, where the Germans most nearly approached a definite breach in the defenses of the city, that the heaviest fighting has been in progress recently.

Fighting Along Somme

On the Somme front the principal activity of last night was on the initiative of the Germans, who made a determined effort to recapture from the British the small section of ground along the Guillemont Combes highway known as Louze wood. The German counter attack led to one of the fiercest man to man struggles with hand grenades and bayonets, which have characterized the recent fighting along the Somme. London reports definitely that in the end the Germans were beaten back.

To Drop Somme Offensive

An intimation that the Somme offensive has been abandoned has been given by the British war office.

STRIKEBREAKERS WORK ON NEW YORK CARS

Union Leaders Claim 9000 Quit—The L Trains Bombarded With Stones—4000 Police on Guard

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The city today was apparently but little affected by the strike which began late last night on the subway, elevated lines and several of the surface lines of the Interborough Rapid Transit system. Trains in the subway and on the "L" moved almost normally and the crowds going to work during the rush hours of the morning suffered little inconvenience. Surface line traffic on the "Green car" system, operated by the New York Railways Co., was not so good, only about 30 percent of the usual number of cars being operated.

Union leaders, who demand abrogation of the company's so-called "master and servant" contracts binding the employees not to ask wage increases for two years, claimed that 9000 men had walked out, including 4000 on the subway and elevated systems. Traction officials, however, asserted that not more than 2000 men had quit work and that their places had been filled by strikebreakers.

Throughout the district affected little disorder was reported. In Harlem and on the east side there were a few minor disturbances and in other sections a number of elevated trains were assaulted with bricks by unidentified persons on roof tops. No one was seriously injured. The police department assigned 4000 patrolmen to the task of guarding property and passengers on cars and at stations.

Traction officials, admitting that the gravity of the situation is such that at any moment a crisis may arise, were today providing stocks of food for strikebreakers, many of whom come from other cities where they had gathered in anticipation of a nation-wide railroad strike.

GREAT STRIKE THREATENED

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A million of more residents of New York left their homes early today not knowing whether they would ride to work or walk. The first test of the strike declared last night by the union employees of the elevated and subway railways came with the morning rush hours on these arteries of travel between the two ends of Manhattan island.

If the carmen can carry out their threat to stop work, the city will be paralyzed.

more than in any year in the history of the school. Lowell and Lawrence are the homes of most of the students although every city and town in the Merrimack valley together with Cambridge, Wakefield, Woburn and many other cities and towns are represented in this year's membership.

Principal John J. Mahoney, who is starting his first year as the head of the State Normal school, having finished the term of the late Cyrus Durkin last year, stated this forenoon that the accommodations are adequate for the increased registration. There are no additional rooms, however, and the teachers remain the same as a year ago. No changes were made at the school during the summer vacation. This is the 15th year of the State Normal school in Lowell.

Although Mr. Mahoney stated that everything at the school would be practically the same as last year, it is understood that he is gradually introducing improvements by which better results will be obtained. He plans for attaining the best results and organizing all the energies of the school to that end.

HOSPITAL PLANS ARE APPROVED BY COUNCIL

The plans for the proposed contagious hospital to be erected in Varian avenue, this city, as prepared by Architect Henry L. Rourke were formally approved this morning by members of the contagious hospital commission and board of health, at a meeting held in the mayor's reception room at city hall, and it was voted to submit the plans to the state board of health and the county commissioners for their approval and as soon as this is done to call for bids.

Present at the meeting were Mayor O'Donnell, who presided; Dr. C. E. Simpson of the state board of health; Dr. Thomas F. Carroll, John E. Drury and Agent Bates of the local board of health; Dr. McCarty, Fred Jenness and Clarence Nelson of the hospital commission.

The opening of the meeting Architect Rourke submitted his plan, and said they were all finished with the exception of the boiler house, for he did not know just where this building would be located. He also stated that the plans had been drafted according to recommendations and that room for six additional beds for the hospital had been provided. He showed plans of cupolas with glass enclosure and glass doors, the latter of a sufficient width to permit the passage of a bed, and he said everything but specifications was in readiness for bids.

Mr. Rourke also stated that the plans call for three buildings to be known as "shacks," the administration building, the kitchen and dining room, the latter to be together in a separate one-story building, and the laundry. In reference to the laundry Mr. Rourke said he might place it over the boiler house. The hospital will contain 40 beds, 24 ordinary and six for bad cases. He also stated that the interior of the cupolas will be of plain wood finish and Dr. McCarty objected to this on the grounds that the wood will eventually shrink, leaving open cracks for tuberculosis germs. Dr. Simpson stated that the cupolas will be thoroughly lighted and ventilated and that the light and air have a tendency to kill germs. It was also suggested that a plaster finish could be put in later and this proved satisfactory to Dr. McCarty.

In the course of the meeting it was stated that 30 beds was not what the state required, for according to the law a city is to make provision for 1 bed to each 1000 inhabitants, but this would do for the present. It was finally voted to approve the plans and submit them to the state board of health and county commissioners for approval and as soon as this is done to call for bids. At the close of the meeting those present visited the premises where the proposed hospital will be erected in order to select a spot for the boiler house.

FORD SUES PAPER THAT CALLED HIM ANARCHIST

ATTORNEY FILES SUIT FOR $100,000 AGAINST THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Suit for $100,000 was filed by Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, against the Chicago Tribune in the United States district court here today. Mr. Ford asks for personal damages as compensation for an editorial printed in the Tribune June 25, which it is charged called Ford an "anarchist."

The article was printed more than two months ago. According to the announcement which came from Mr. Lucking's office, the word "anarchist" was used in the headline of the editorial. The article itself censured Mr. Ford's ideas and methods.

It was learned that Mr. Ford has had the suit under contemplation for several weeks. The papers were not completed before Mr. Lucking left Detroit last night, but it was said they probably would be signed in Chicago today.

16 ALLEGED MEMBERS OF LYNCH MOB INDICTED

The list includes several business men. Thirteen of the 16 have been arrested and are in the county jail. It is expected that about 100 indictments will be returned.

"Attacking an official for the purpose of lynching" is the charge on those already returned. The men under arrest were placed under $1500 bonds.

HUGHES RAPS ADAMSON LAW AT HAMPTON

"NOT AN EIGHT-HOUR LAW, BUT A WAGE LAW" — ALSO SPOKE AT BEVERLY

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., Sept. 7.—Charles E. Hughes, in an address here today, referred to the Adamson law, "not an eight hour a day law, but a wage law," and declared that failure of "peaceful settlement of industrial disputes" was but "another step from the abdication of government itself."

Mr. Hughes spoke against the cost of the tide from the ocean. His audience standing on the beach applauded him loudly.

"We cannot afford to surrender what we have won to our institutions in this country," the nominee said. "What have we won? We have won the right to free discussion, a free press, a democratic form of government, free assembly, free trade, and an executive chosen by the people. We have left autonomy. We have left the abdication of government itself. We have left force. They shall not come back if we can prevent it."

"We have recently seen what I regard as a very deplorable surrender of that principle. I am for the abridgment of industrial disputes. That is in the interests of labor. Labor cannot afford to surrender that principle. "We have recently had, at the proposal of the executive, in an act passed by congress, a confession in ignorance of the facts, confessedly in ignorance of what justice demands. It is not an eight hour a day law. It is a wage law and nobody knows whether it is just or not.

"Now I am for justice in everything, but I propose that in all we do we shall investigate first and then legislate. Our methods in this country are of priceless importance to us because they are methods which conserve our peace. It is only one step from peaceful settlement of such disputes to the denunciation of our courts and all the machinery of peaceful settlement. It is only another step to the abdication of government itself. What is democracy but a willingness to abide by the dictates of reason?"

Mr. Hughes motored here from Hampton, where he left his train. At the conclusion of his address he motored to Portsmouth, where he was to speak today.

GREETED AT BEVERLY
BEVERLY, Sept. 7.—North shore residents turned out in large numbers today to greet Mr. Hughes, who made a brief stop here on his way to New Hampshire and Maine. The nominee made a five minute address from the rear platform of his private car after being introduced by Otis E. Beuhman, president of the Beverly League.

Governor McCall accompanied Mr. Hughes.

In his speech Mr. Hughes again said the "rule of force."

"We are all together, and must share in the prosperity of the country on a just and fair basis. If we are to have an enduring stability and prosperity," he said.

"But underlying all that is the necessity of having the reign of reason in this country. If I were the executive of the United States I would not yield to force exerted by capital or labor or anyone in this country, short of a fair examination of the facts and a knowledge of what the case actually demanded. Labor lost of all can afford to surrender the rules of reason. We have in this country opportunity for fair and free discussion, for intelligent action by the representatives of the people.

"This country must never know the rule of force. It must never know legislation under oppression. I am opposed to that. I am opposed to everything which pertains to the exercise of arbitrary power by anyone. That is the strength of our institutions. Show me the way and I will follow. I desire the peaceful settlement of all grievances in this country; the reasonable consideration of the necessities of each case. We must never permit any of the processes of government to be surrendered to the dictates of disaster. We might as well give up our democratic government if we are not aided by reason. If we yield to force, there is part company with any who make demands in advance of the knowledge of the justice of the demands that are made."

SPOKE AT PORTSMOUTH
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 7.—Mr. Hughes vigorously assailed the enactment of the Adamson law in his speech at Music hall here. The hall was filled and hundreds were turned away.

"The one thing we cannot afford to have either in the executive or congress," Mr. Hughes said, "is for one to demand and the other to pass legislation in advance of knowledge of what the facts are and what the country requires."

"Whenever this pressure is applied to any officer of the United States we must stand like a rock and say 'I stand until we substitute reason for force.'"

"It is said that the judgment of society has supported the demand for an eight hour day. As I have said before this was not an eight hour a day law but a wage law and the judgment of society and the people to do what is right before congress and passed by congress. The proof of this is found in the bill itself which provides that congress shall investigate and find out if it had the right to do what it did."

"What that kind of virus in our life would bring us in the end is disaster. Teach us how to get what they want by applying pressure, continue in that course a few years and we might as well give up the forms of democratic government."

Mr. Hughes left Portsmouth after lunch for York Harbor, Me., to deliver another address late today.

LOWELL BOYS AT BORDER
In answer to inquiries made by Lowell men word has been received here that Secretary of War Baker notified the boys at the border that it was impossible for him at this time to state whether or not the Massachusetts National Guard would be ordered home in time to vote in the November election.

Governor McCall telegraphed Senator Weeks at Washington yesterday asking for the information on the subject for the benefit of Adjutant General Gardner W. Pearson and a conference with Secretary Baker brought out the above information which was sent on to military circles in this city.

SEEKING HIS DAUGHTER
Man Who Came Here in Search of His Daughter Returned Home Disappointed
A little effort to locate his daughter, who disappeared from her home in a little town called Mayfield in New York state was ended by a disappointed man named George Greenough this forenoon when he boarded a train at the Middlesex street station for his home town with practically no more information than when he started out.

Mr. Greenough told his story to men employed in the vicinity of the station. On the fourth of July his 18-year-old daughter, the only child, left home with her clothes without saying good bye to her folks or friends. For a few days Mr. Greenough and his wife did not worry much as they thought their daughter had gone visiting and would return home after the holidays were over.

Nothing was said of the matter for a week and then the police of nearby cities were notified. After some time it was found that a young girl answering the description of Mr. Greenough's daughter had purchased a ticket for Bridgeport, Conn., and the father went there. After nearly a week in Bridgeport the man came to Lowell at the suggestion of some people with whom he talked in Bridgeport. He remained here two days and hunted down the clue that he followed from Bridgeport only to learn that his daughter was not concerned. Today he left for his journey home with sad news for his anxious wife.

OFF FOR PLATTSBURG
Loaded down with camp equipment and the necessary paraphernalia, five Lowell men will leave this city late this afternoon for Boston where they will join 300 other "would be" soldiers and board a special train to Plattsburg for a month's encampment. The train is scheduled to leave Boston tonight at 8 o'clock and arrive at the camp grounds at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. This month's camp will be the fifth and last of the season for students, business and professional men. Lowell has been represented at the past encampments and the boys from this city were all greatly impressed with the experience. The Lowell boys who leave tonight are Joseph M. Reilly of the Courier-Citizen composing room; Raymond B. Messer, a playground instructor and Textile student; Eldred E. Besse, Lowell Gas Light Co.; Rev. Arthur W. Shaw, assistant pastor of St. Anne's church and William B. Higgins.

An Easy Way To Get Fat And Be Strong
The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on dragging their stomachs or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some silly system of exercise. The real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing element needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what result this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the cheeks fill out, the nose, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, its expense is efficient. The Lowell Pharmacy and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent for nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

WERE MARRIED
25 YEARS AGO
YESTERDAY
Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Fournier of 129 Colburn street, are today observing their 25th anniversary of marriage. There is no celebration, the event having been postponed to Saturday, at which time there will be a high mass at 7 o'clock in St. Joseph's church, a dinner at the home of the couple and a reception in the evening in Mule Spinners' hall, 22 Middle street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fournier were married Sept. 6, 1891, at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Joseph's church by Rev. Antoine Amyot, O.M.I., and the same clergyman will officiate at the mass Saturday morning. The best man was Albert Morin, while the bridesmaid was a sister of the bridegroom, Miss Marianne Fournier, and both are still residents of this city.

Mrs. Fournier was born Sept. 2, 1851, at Burton, Vt., and came to this city while a boy. For a number of years he was employed in a local mill as a mule spinner, but recently he shifted over to the U. S. Cartridge Co. Mrs. Fournier is of the old Canadian stock and to the writer she said she hopes to celebrate her golden wedding. Her father, who is still enjoying the best of health, is now 77 years old, and he expects to reach at least 80, the age of his father at his death. One of Mr. Bassiere's sisters, Mrs. Joseph Morrissette, passed away four years ago at Thetford Mines, Que., at the age of 59 years, 6 months and 25 days, while another sister, Mrs. Dominic Couture, has reached the age of 92, and still another sister, Mrs. Isale Hamel, is 85.

Mr. and Mrs. Fournier count a host of friends in this city, who unite in wishing them long life and prosperity.

THE SICKABED LADY
Nurse has given me this recipe for natural water. She says it is a splendid hot weather drink, as well as rice water. Rub one ounce of oatmeal in a little cold water, or in milk, then stir gradually in sufficient milk to make a quart together; bring it to the stove, then draw to the side of the stove and simmer gently for a quarter of an hour. Strain and add one spoon of sugar. May be drunk hot or cold. Stir well before drinking. It is deliciously iced. This drink may be made with water and moist sugar for economy's sake.

Rice water—Wash one and a fourth ounces of rice and simmer it for an hour in a pint of cold water with a half ounce of raisins and a strip of lemon rind; strain carefully. Drink when cold, it is good for the bowels. Always let the cold water in the morning, or after it has stood in the pipes, as it is often impure from the sediment in them.

One cupful of molasses, one tablespoon butter and one tablespoon vinegar will cure hoarseness of the throat and a bronchial cold. Heat the vinegar, molasses and butter and take a tablespoonful every hour.

Nurse says concentrated lye has brought death to many children. The antidotes are water containing vinegar and lemon juice to neutralize the alkali; the milk, oil or butter. Opium poisoning requires stimulation after emetic treatment. Hot strong coffee should be given and the patient compelled to move about.

After you have produced vomiting by your emetics and have given what you can to make your patient comfortable. See that the extremities are warm, give plenty of air, keep the patient awake. If the poison was a narcotic, otherwise as quiet as possible, but the milk, oil or butter, you can while you wait for the doctor. But the best time for common sense is before necessity arises. Remember the distinctive label on the package.

In making a mustard plaster mix the mustard with the white of an egg for then the plaster will not produce a blister even on the most tender skin.

Nurse says the hygiene for summer should aim to allow the free elimination of moisture from the skin (perspiration) and to diminish the production of bodily heat.

For these purposes, frequent baths are indicated. Loose, light porous clothing should be worn, allowing air to circulate freely; heat producing substances in the diet should be avoided.

Vegetables, both cooked and in salad form, fruit properly ripened, eggs and plenty of cool, not iced, water form a valuable part of the summer diet.

For one accustomed to a heavy meat diet the proportion of meat should be cut down one-half.

For the normally healthy person, sea bathing is a tonic and a healthful exercise, if taken in moderation. Bathing when overworked or exhausted should be avoided. The best time to bathe is in the morning, an hour or more after the morning meal. The bath should not be too prolonged; from 15 to 20 minutes is the general rule, not over 30, and should be followed by a good reaction with a sense of warmth and stimulation.

Nurse says if one is at all nervous avoid all unpleasant topics and conversation, and get plenty of reading, plays and music. Seek the cheerful and happy in all things, and be enough of a fatalist to say that whatever of tragedy may be coming your way, and is unavoidable, you will simply have to endure.

When particularly nervous or upset, take a deep breath, or several deep breaths, and a large drink of water.

THE SPELLBINDER

The Pawtucket bridge obstructionists are howling with ghoulish glee because the war department has declared the structure to be an "illegal structure," having been started without the sanction of that department, and they picture the war department some day coming to Lowell with picks, shovels and dynamite to remove the bridge. But when that day comes there will be no dam at Lawrence nor any dam at Lowell, nor rocks nor rapids between Lawrence and Lowell, while ocean liners, and perhaps German submarines, will be delivering imported goods at Joe Cushman's back door. When that time shall arrive it may be time to consider the matter of constructing a new bridge in the Pawtucket river, but until that time the residents of Pawtucketville may cross it and cross it without fear of molestation on the part of the government at Washington, and they may incidentally thank a live mayor who went ahead and put them their bridge when they wanted it, even if he did overlook the perfunctory permission of the war department.

It is amusing to consider who is doing the howling about the "illegal bridge" at this time. Last year, it will be recalled, the same people were bawling a bridge to be built by Mr. Deannan, if memory serves me right, advised going ahead without waiting for permission from the war department, not deeming such permission necessary. Now they are finding fault with what would have been done had the "Deannan" administration listened to Mr. Deannan's advice. "Was ever thus?"

The Merrimack river is technically navigable, inasmuch as the Pawtucket canal is supposed to provide a way for any boats that may want to go up and down its waters, via Lowell. That particular part which is being spanned by the new bridge has never been considered navigable, for how could it be with a huge dam of solid masonry stretched across its entire length. It isn't even navigable for fish in recent years since the fishway disappeared.

If the Merrimack river were navigable, why all these meetings of the Merrimack valley deeper waterways commission which is trying to have the river made navigable for ordinary canal boats from Haverhill up to Hunt's Falls, quarter of a mile below the Pawtucket Falls?

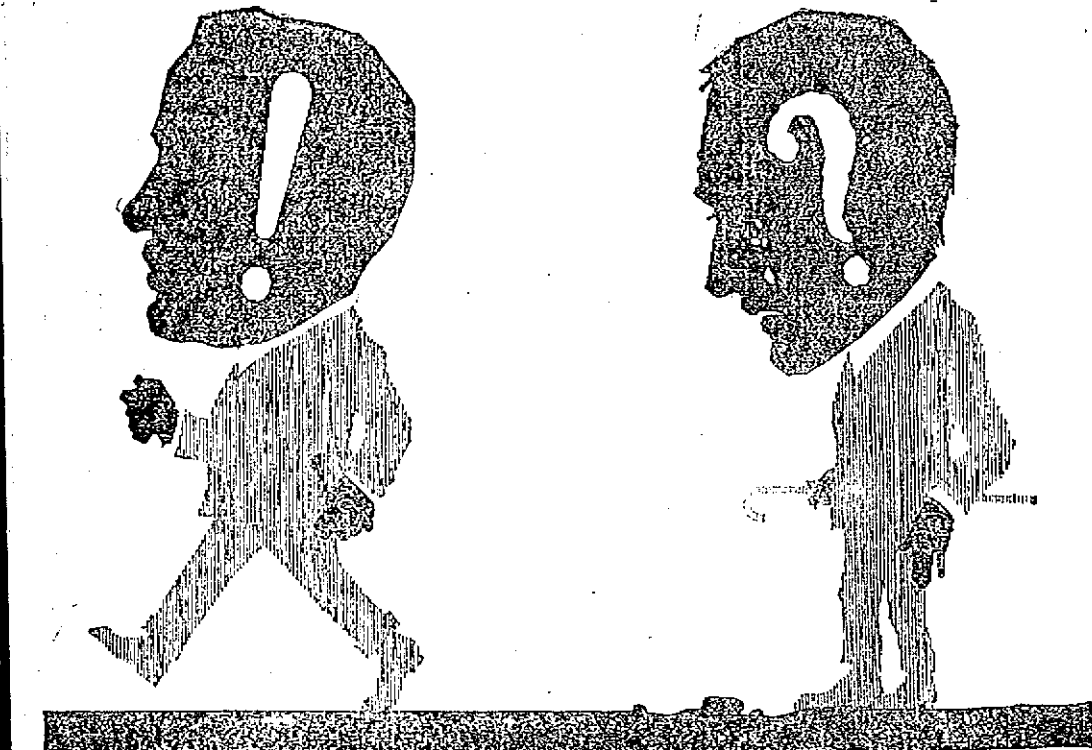

The people of Pawtucketville are to have a first class concrete bridge at the falls, this year, such as they have been crying for periodically, since those memorable days when Charles Morse ran a steam roller over their structure without any dire results, and one Stryker, an engineer, after climbing over and under the old bridge declared that it would be proper to build a new one.

The past administration, flattered away a lot of time, and a few dollars without results, and now finally the bridge is actually in process of construction, at present about one-third finished, and whether it be technically "legal" or not, it will answer all the demands that will be made upon it for a generation and longer, and will not be removed by flood, fire or war department. And its grade will be such that stout people will need neither a derrier nor a tow-horse to get them over it.

BIG POW-POW COMING

The big republican pow-wow at the Bunting grounds, next Saturday will bring together a great gathering of the republican candidates and spellbinders, and it will be proper to get ready for it. I took in the Barnstable fair last week. It ran three days. This opening day had for its principal feature a dog-show. On the second day came Governor McCall, while the big event of the third day was a horse show. Governor McCall held up his end with the dogs and the horses, and made a first class speech, entirely eliminating politics from his discourse. There were some Cape Codders present who would have liked to hear the governor talk on "the island of the living dead."

Two Fellows are trying to get ahead--
It's easy to see who'll win.

ago. The affair was a grand and complete success and its fame has gone beyond the city's confines for now other municipalities are referring to the Lowell event as well worthy of emulation in other quarters, and are writing for information relative to details. The affair pleased everybody and comparatively was inexpensive, all bills being met promptly, in striking contrast to the Christmas tree exercises of last year's government, some of the bills for which have not yet been paid, the old administration going out of office without settling its bills. The Lowell Electric Light company is still patiently waiting for somebody to come across with the amount of its bill for that little celebration of last year.

Likes Our Paving

Alderman F. R. Armano, of Annapolis Royal, Canada, who has been the guest of Mr. Vincent Farrington of this city, returned to Canada a few days ago very much impressed with our state and city roads. Mr. Armano is much interested in street paving and was shown our streets, and some of our neighboring state highways, and he exclaimed: "Your state and city roads were a revelation to me. I have never seen any as well laid and as well kept." He was much interested in the cement base system of paving in vogue here and will probably bring it at home upon his return. Mr. Armano is a breeder and importer of fancy live-stock and while here visited Flood's farm, with which he was much impressed.

NEW EIGHT HOUR LAWPRES. RIPLEY SAYS HIS ROAD
WILL NOT YIELD UNLESS OB-
DERED TO BY THE COURTS

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 7.—E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, declared in a formal statement last night that the Santa Fe does not intend to comply with the Adamson eight-hour law, recently enacted by congress to avert a threatened railroad strike, until ordered to do so by the United States supreme court.

Mr. Ripley declared that the so-called eight-hour law was nothing more than an advance of 20 to 25 per cent, in wages to the men who received the most money on the railroads. His statement follows:

"Congress, hastily acting under a threat of four leaders of labor organizations, enacted a so-called eight-hour law, which is nothing more nor less than an advance of 20 to 25 per cent, in the wages of the best paid men in railway service. It is only fair to the public and to our employees to say that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company does not intend to comply with the law until ordered to do so by the court of last resort."

POST 155, G. A. R.

The regular meeting of Post 155, G. A. R., was held last night and an excellent supper was served prior to the business session. The feature of the meeting was the reading of general orders, preparatory to the inspection of the Grand Army posts in this city. The meeting was presided over by Commander J. H. Caverly. The dates of the inspections have not been announced as yet, but the following visiting officers will do the work:

Post 12 will be inspected by Charles Jenkins of Lawrence; Post 120 by W. E. Manson of Lawrence, and Post 153 by Charles H. Johnson of Woburn. Past Commander, Frank B. Plankers of Post 120, this city, has been selected to inspect Post 330 of Lawrence. At the meeting last night Post 155 also voted to hold a ladies' night, with an entertainment and refreshments, on the evening of Sept. 20, which is the regular meeting night of the post.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The finest play, the finest company, and the finest production that Lowell has ever seen is the reason for the big crowds flocking to the Lowell Opera House this week and the Emerson players, in presenting "On Trial," the famous George Bernard Shaw play, are assisting the greatest hit that the city has ever known. Seats are in great demand for the remaining performances and it is well to make reservations early to avoid any chance of disappointment. Reservations will be made by phoning 261 and they will be held until 1:30 and 7:30, excepting on the Saturday performances when the tickets for both afternoon and evening will be held until noon.

Ran, Miller, Inez Ragan, Millard Vincent, George S. Hays, James Hays, Frank Wright, Ernest East, Leslie Waterman, Paul Carston, David Baker and other members of the company, representing the greatest aggregation of stock artists in New England, are scoring big hits and each one has already won a fair share of the applause. The acting in the great scenes of the play is indeed finished and demonstrates that the Emerson company is composed of real artists, all of whom are well versed in their way deep into the hearts of the patrons.

In offering "On Trial" the Emerson company has secured the strongest ticket of home upon its return, and it is known. The play is new and original. It tells the story of a murder and the theft of $10,000 and has the most beautiful scenery that has ever been presented in Lowell. The scenery is so realistic that the audience is almost convinced that the scene is really taking place before their eyes.

Next week, the Emerson players will present "Rolling Stones," that great melodramatic comedy by Edgar Selwyn, which has been a great success in Boston and for five months last season. It is one of the greatest successes offered on the stage in Lowell.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"What a welcome relief to hear a human voice from the stage," remarked several of the patrons as they passed through the foyer at Keith's theatre the other evening. After enjoying the excellent bill which Manager Fickett selected as his opening offering, "Amen," chimed in a chorus of others, and those who didn't respond verbally seemed to express their entire appreciation of the exclamation by a look or smile. These happy expressions were the result of the excellent performance, both afternoon and night, which has been a sellout, reflect one thing certain, and that is that local playgoers have lived in miserable and unexciting conditions for the opening of the theatrical season and appreciate to the fullest the efforts of the local management to give them genuine entertainment. This week's bill is fully up to the high standard of what invariably characterized Keith's offerings. At Herma's is one of the funniest black-faced comedians on the vaudeville stage today. He sings well, tells stories in a way all his own, and introduces more genuine humor than any other performer in minutes by any other single individual. You will laugh at Al's stories and stunts even though this particular kind of entertainment is given to you before. Another entertaining novelty on the bill is given by Frank Parish and Peru, barrel jumpers and conning players, all of whom are doing a first class act. Nothing better than these has been seen on a local stage in seasons. Parish is wonderfully clever and in Paris he has a capable assistant. The Paris in the "Gown Shop," a 20 minute comedy musical affair, includes several good song numbers, a band of excellent comedians and other clever contributions that make it popular with the patrons. Seven comely dancing girls add to its attractiveness. "The Merchant Prince," acted by Virginia Flint, is good for its kind and the Novelles are novelty gymnasts of unusual merit. Baron's midget ponies and Billy and Robinson who turn and dance themselves into favor are others on the bill. "Gloria's Romance," presenting the 14th chapter, will be a feature. Phone 25 and order your seats in advance.

BUREAU REPORT
READS WELL
FOR LABOR

Special to The Sun

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 7.—Great improvement in employment conditions in this state is indicated by the quarterly bulletin of the bureau of statistics, issued today. It shows that on June 30, the end of the last quarter, only 1.2 per cent of the members of unions reporting were unemployed, this being less than half the number reported for March 31, when the percentage was 3.4.

This percentage, the bulletin states, "marks the least unemployment recorded since this bureau began in 1908 to collect statistics of this character."

As usual, the chief cause of unemployment was lack of work, the percentage due to this cause being 1.3, but this figure, also, is the lowest in the history of the bureau. Unfavorable weather was responsible for 0.3 per cent, and strikes or lockouts for 0.5, other various causes, with small percentages, make up the total of 1.2.

Of the 1504 persons reported as on strike, 827, or more than half, were in the building trades. Other strikes in which twenty-five or more employees were concerned included maintenance of way employees in Lowell; painters, decorators and paper hangers in New Bedford; textile workers in New Bedford; metal polishers, butlers and platers in Worcester; and sheet metal workers in Springfield.

In only one city, Cambridge, was the percentage of unemployment higher than at the end of March, the increase there being due to a strike by a large number of had carriers and building laborers, with a small union membership reporting. Springfield reported exactly the same percentage, 1.0, as in March, but all other cities showed a decrease.

The Leading Cities

The figures for each of the leading cities are given below:

City	Number on Strike June 30	Per Cent	Per Cent March 31
Cambridge	128	4.0	1.6
Brookline	72	6.0	10.3
Boston	319	2.9	11.3
Lawrence	145	5.0	6.3
Boston	2872	4.5	7.9
Worcester	343	4.2	4.7
Lowell	445	1.0	5.3
Springfield	445	1.0	4.0
Fall River	142	3.4	12.7
Holyoke	127	3.3	6.1
Quincy	38	3.0	5.6
New Bedford	26	3.0	6.1
Salem	66	2.6	8.1
Lowell	122	2.4	3.8
Lowell	19	2.1	4.3
Lowell	26	1.8	12.3
Taunton	24	1.3	6.7
Haverhill	33	1.3	3.1

With the single exception of employees engaged in transportation, including both steam and electric, there was a reduction of unemployment in all the principal industries. The building trades reported 214 or 7.6 per cent idle, as compared with 22 per cent in March. Boots and shoes reported 1213, or 3.1 per cent, idle, as compared with 3.1 per cent in March. The textile industry, whose idle number was 377, or 3.1 per cent, the March figure being 4 per cent. In iron and steel manufacturing the percentages were 2.1 and 5.4, while in printing and the allied trades the figures were 3.0 and 7.9 per cent.

Reports From Lowell

The bulletin also contains the following summary of reports of correspondents in Lowell:

Building trades—Conditions were reported to be better than normal.

Boots and Shoes—Although the close of June is usually "between seasons" it was estimated that the number of operatives employed in shoe factories in Lowell was 20 per cent above normal. Owing to the scarcity of labor, however, it was found necessary to employ a large number of comparatively unskilled workmen. Consequently the working force was hardly more than 50 per cent efficient.

Textile industry—In both woolen and cotton mills there was a shortage of help. Every mill was running at full speed and overtime in some cases was found necessary.

Transportation—Freight facilities were still inadequate, but conditions were improving.

Iron and Steel Manufacturing—At Lowell three munition plants were said to be running night and day. One of these which normally employs 350 persons had on its payroll at the close of June 5709 employees.

tion of the state board of charity, I decided it was my duty to notify the board. I understood that the state from Middleboro was made at about 1:30 o'clock in the morning. They told us they had been delayed because of trouble with the machine. Mrs. Hooper could not talk and she cannot talk now, so there is no way of ascertaining how she felt about the trip.

Dr. Nichols said that Mrs. Hooper is very feeble but may live for some considerable time. She is able to take more or less nourishment, but she cannot speak nor hear. Her whole right side is paralyzed by the sudden stroke of illness which led to her transfer to the state institution. It was plain to be seen, however, that Mrs. Hooper was very intelligent. In such a condition, she should have been taken to the infirmary in a nurse. He said that nobody at the institution knew that Mrs. Hooper was coming there.

Recommended by Town Official

Overseer of the Poor Charles M. Thatchers of Middleboro, the official who engaged the ambulance to carry Mrs. Hooper to Tewksbury, admitted last night that the vehicle had just returned from a funeral when it went for Mrs. Hooper.

The Middleboro officials say that it has been nearly all summer as an ambulance for private patients in Middleboro, as well as to carry the sick to the Lakeville State sanitarium, the Bridgewater State farm and Lakeview hospital. Between whiles it is used regularly as a hearse.

Mr. Thatchers said that everything was done for the woman that could be done and if the same condition arose again he would do the very same thing because there was nothing better that could be done. "It was a very urgent case," said Mr. Thatchers. "Something had to be done at once. She did not happen to be a town charge, but she was a state case and we had written two or three times to the state officials, but our letters were ignored."

"The woman had been cared for by a nurse who was unable to longer remain with her. Her husband was willing to have her go and felt it was the best thing that could be done. Dr. Burkhead, the town physician, recommended her immediate removal."

"The vehicle used is as near an ambulance as there is in town. People of wealth and refinement have been carried in it this summer to hospitals in Boston and elsewhere, without complaint from them." Mr. Thatchers got the use of the ambulance the day before and neither could we have the services of the nurse to accompany the woman on the following day, because of other appointments, so there was nothing else that we could do. "She was removed in a comfortable ambulance, she was attended by a nurse and this was done with the consent of her husband and the approval of the town physician."

UP BY STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—The dismissal of Melvin J. West, superintendent of schools of the four towns of Westwood, Middlefield, Norfolk and Millis, by the joint school committee of those four towns this summer, is not considered by the state board of education as a precedent for the removal of a superintendent of schools in union towns, a superintendent cannot be dismissed without the approval of the state board of education.

The state board, after considering the evidence in the matter, has made a report and finding, in which it refuses to concur in the dismissal.

DISCRIMINATION ALLEGED

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Papers were filed yesterday in the Middlesex superior court in the suit of Mrs. Rose Plunkett of 313 East Foster street, Melrose, against the New England sanitarium of Stoneham, seeking damages because of alleged discrimination against her due to her color. She is represented by George H. Farnum.

It is alleged that arrangements had been made by Mr. Plunkett for her admission, but on Mrs. Plunkett's arrival she was discourteously treated because of her color and was allowed to remain unattended during the night, her plea to be sent home having been refused.

Somerville Man Owes His Restoration to Health to Plant Juice.

Juice.

"In olden days people were more careful of the digestive organs than now and in this way they kept close to nature, learned the value of many of nature's medicinal plants and herbs, and used these herbs with their food," stated the Plant Juice man who has his headquarters at Dows, the Drugist in Merrimack Square. Continuing, he said:

"Today the average man does not know of these plants, but he does know that Plant Juice is a concentrated extract of them, and that it is the one aid for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, superinduced from the rapid method of living prevalent among all classes of today. Thousands have been benefited from the use of Plant Juice in every city, where it has been introduced. In Lowell Plant Juice is duplicating its success, as in many other cities, and I am daily in receipt of many signed statements testifying to the benefits received from sufferers of longstanding cases of stomach, liver and kidney troubles."

Recently Mr. Elijah F. Cudworth, who resides at No. 29 Walter street, Somerville, a well known G.A.R. man, who has lived in this city for the past 20 years and whose integrity is unquestioned, said:

"For the past nine months I have been troubled with my stomach. My food would sour in my stomach and cause gas and a bloated condition with severe pain. I had headaches and dizzy spells. I was so nervous and restless at night I did not get any sleep before two o'clock in the morning. I could not eat meat or vegetables of any kind as I could not keep any food in my stomach. My limbs were so stiff and weak that I could hardly walk. I had tried many kinds of medicines and got no relief until I tried Plant Juice. I found it just the medicine for me as I am gaining in health every day. I have a fine appetite, sleep well and I can get around better on my feet than I ever could before."

The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, the Drugist, in Merrimack Square, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

JESSE POMEROY 40 YEARS A PRISONER TODAY

SERVED LONGER THAN ANY IN CHARLESTOWN PRISON—BENEFITED BY DAVID WALKS

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Jesse Pomeroi, the noted life prisoner, today will complete 40 years of confinement in the state prison at Charlestown for the murder of little Mary Curran, 11-year-old South Boston girl. He has been behind the bars longer than any other convict in the prison.

Pomeroi is in good health and the privileges granted him by the executive council have been very beneficial. He is permitted to attend religious services and some time ago he attended a moving picture show at the prison.

The improved condition of his mind, since he was permitted to attend chapel and have an hour and a half outdoor recreation daily with his guard, has been noticed by Warden Allen, Rev. M. J. Murphy and Rev. William Bradley Wilbur, the prison chaplains.

These are practically the only ones permitted to talk with him. Since his mother died about a year ago, Pomeroi's only visitor has been his brother, who lives in the western part of the state.

Pomeroi passes most of his time in reading and writing. He is permitted to read books, magazines and papers. He does practically no work. About two years ago he expressed a desire to do some light work in his cell and a small knitting machine was installed there, but he later complained of his eyesight and gave up knitting. He is usually laid in one eye, due to long continued reading and study.

On one of Gov. Walsh's visits to the prison Pomeroi was asked by the governor why he did not have an uperation performed on his eye to improve his sight, but Pomeroi said he did not care to run any risk of losing it.

A committee of three composed of J. B. Richard, E. S. Desmarais and E. J. Larocheville went to Nashua last evening in Mr. Desmarais' automobile and conferred with Rev. J. G. A. Jutra, pastor of the parish, who promised to fill the hall.

The first part of the program will consist of a minstrel entertainment, and those who will take part are as follows: Edmund N. Foley, Horndikes and Felix Ducharme, Armand Dupont, Arthur Lavoie, W. P. The second part of the program will consist of a one-act operetta entitled "Les Deux Aveugles" which will be interpreted by Arthur Lavoie and E. J. Larocheville. Miss Blanche Jodoin of this city will be the accompanist for the evening. The trip to Nashua will be made in automobiles.

GASOLINE IS DOWN AGAIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A reduction of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline, making the wholesale price now 22 cents a gallon, was announced here yesterday by the Standard Oil company. This is the second cut in the price of gasoline this year. The reason given was the heavy increase in the production of crude oil.

$19 FOR KISS HE DIDN'T GET

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Nineteen dollars for a kiss that he did not get was the price Michael J. Bailey, a 24-year-old Newton Center man, paid in Newton court yesterday. He was arraigned on the charge of assault and battery upon Mrs. Edith Jones, a colored woman, who testified that Bailey tried to kiss her on Lake Avenue last Saturday night. She also said that he broke her glasses and umbrella in the attempt. Bailey explained his error on the ground that he was intoxicated, and paid the costs.

mosquito fleet in and around New York. The breaking in of New York's mosquito fleet as an auxiliary to the navy is far from an easy task. Captain L. H. Kaiser, senior officer present in command of the battleship New Jersey, mother ship for the mosquito fleet, is well satisfied with the work done, however. Under the supervision of Lieutenant P. W. Wilcox, United States navy, who has had charge of the details of the mosquito fleet drill, their owners have been put through stiff paces. There have been numerous in squadron formations, attacks by some motorboats, backed by hydro aeroplanes, spraying out mines and destroyers, while other motorboats and destroyers defended certain waters at the entrances to the Ambrose and Swasey channels. The drill periods are from 8.30 to 11.30 a. m., from 1.30 to 4 p. m. and from 8 to 10 p. m. Dummy periscopes on small boats have been used to represent submarines, and floating and anchored mines for the motorboats to dodge were placed everywhere. GRAMMAR SCHOOLS

John H. Lambert, Richard Brabrook Walsh, John C. Leggett and Herbert N. Elliott of the school board; Agent Bates, John E. Drury and Dr. Thomas P. Carroll of the board of health; Dr. C. E. Simpson of the state board of health; Supt. Meloy of the school department.

The matter of opening the schools next week was discussed and Dr. Simpson gave as his opinion that there would be less chance for an epidemic by having the children in the schools than by having them running around the streets and attending moving picture shows. He said in the schools the children would be under medical supervision, and this would make things much easier to detect a case of infantile paralysis. Dr. Lambert stated that he gathered statistics in the board of health office concerning the cases of infantile paralysis and the deaths due to the disease reported in this city during the past seven years, and with the exception of one year, the number of deaths reported this year is less. The statistics produced by Dr. Lambert were as follows:

1911	8	0
1912	4	2
1913	4	2

It was finally decided to open the schools as follows:

Monday forenoon, high school.

Tuesday forenoon, Bartlett afternoon, Bartlett.

Wednesday forenoon, Colburn and Edison; afternoon, Green.

Saturday forenoon, Payson and New Moody; afternoon, Virginia.

Monday forenoon, Sept. 15, Wash-ton.

The Riverside school will open at the same time as the primary schools, the date to be set later. It was also decided that the primary grades located in a grammar school will open at the same date as the grammar grades of that particular school.

made him look like a bushman and attired in clothes that would indicate that he had slept in them for a long time, was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with threatening Albert A. Casey, a farmer in Fruitstable, yesterday morning.

The defendant, who speaks very little English, is hard of hearing and seemed to be disinterested in court events, kept closing his eyes during the examination of the government witnesses and frequently interrupting so that when the government's case was presented Judge Enright suspended the hearing until Sept. 16 and in the meantime the man will be placed under observation in order to ascertain if he is sane.

According to Mr. Casey, Richera called at his home some time ago and wanted to know if he would be allowed to sleep in the barn. Mr. Casey would not allow him to do this but told him there was a shack in the rear of the place and that he could stay there if he desired. Richera has been occupying the shack for a long time and made a garden and lived on the truck which he gathered from it.

Despite the fact that the shack, land, etc., are owned by Mr. Casey, it is alleged that yesterday morning while Mr. Casey was fixing a plough in his barn Richera came along and accused him of stealing some vegetables from his garden. Mr. Casey said: "Richera came up to me with an axe and said: 'You have been in my garden and I am going to kill you.' I stepped aside and he dropped the axe beside me and in order to protect myself I knocked him down and then sent for the police."

Constable Charles Glover was notified and the man was brought to this city where he was booked for threat.

Settled With Friend

Mohamed Said was charged with breaking and entering the home of Hassan Morsch on July 22 and the larceny of $30 in money, a dress suit case and a shirt but after the court had heard the testimony in the case the complaint was changed to larceny and inasmuch as Said had returned the money which he stole, upon the payment of the costs of court the case was placed on file.

It seems that Said and the complainant were friends and recently when the latter came home he found Said asleep in his bed. He had no objection to his staying there but when he awoke in the morning he found that Said and money were missing. The matter was reported to the police and last week it was learned that Said was in Peabody and Sergt. McCleughy went there and brought the man back to Lowell.

Son Was Fined $10

David Sou was charged with the larceny of a night dress, blanket and lamp chimney, all of the value of $2.10, the property of Rachel J. Robinson. He entered a plea of guilty. Sou lived in the house adjoining that of the complainant and while the latter was away to the beach he entered the place and stole the articles mentioned. The matter was reported by the police. Patrolman Farley said that the man had met with an injury to his foot recently, but had been drinking heavily and was sleeping in cellar ways. Sou's wife said that her husband was of no use to her and abused her at times, but she was willing to support him until he was able to go to work again. Owing to the man's crippled condition the court imposed a fine of $10 and gave the man two months in which to pay it.

Stole Money And Beer

Dominick Laba was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of $15 from Jan Chesla of Kenwood on Sept. 4. According to the testimony of Sergt. Petrie, who made the arrest, Laba entered the home of Chesla on Labor day and removed a case of beer and stole $15 in money. Laba admitted he took the money but denied that he had touched the beer. The arresting officer said that Laba had been drunk ever since he took the money and was under the influence of liquor when placed under arrest last night. Laba's drunkenness was placed on file and Laba was ordered to pay a fine of $25 for larceny.

Assault And Battery

Charles Bernish charged with assaulting Patrick McNulty on August 12th entered a plea of not guilty but afterwards said he was so drunk on the night in question that he did not know what he was doing. McNulty said that he was in a Middlesex street saloon on the night of the 12th when Bernish started to "burr" in and he pushed him aside. As McNulty was leaving the place between 10.30 and 11 o'clock he said Bernish picked up a chair and broke it over his head. Another witness said he saw one man strike another over the head with a chair but was unable to identify either the complainant or defendant. The court found Bernish guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $20.

Games Continued

George Bailey, charged with assault and battery, entered a plea of not guilty and by agreement the case was continued until Sept. 17.

Charles Bernish, who was charged with drunkenness, said she was not guilty despite the fact that she had been at the city hospital for several days recuperating. Owing to the fact that some of the witnesses were absent the case was continued until tomorrow morning.

Gave Themselves Up

Salem K. Hussein and Nicholas Andrews, who were wanted by the police in connection with an assault in Suffolk street Monday night, were "tipped off" that the police were looking for them and after securing some information on their heads put in an appearance at the police station last night.

The marriage of Patrolman William L. Six drunks were released.

See that it bears the manufacturer's name. You would not think of buying a watch or an automobile that did not bear the name of a reliable manufacturer. Why not insure your own satisfaction in the same way when you buy a hat? The scarcity and high prices of materials make this precaution especially necessary this Fall.
